

Water Statement for the guides:

Each season at Sunnylands we review maintenance procedures as they relate to visitor experience, maintaining the health of the landscape, and the impact on sustainability and environmental concerns. Based on these considerations we adjust the maintenance practices accordingly.

This season Sunnylands will over-seed 51 acres of the estate. This will allow for an enhanced visitor experience by highlighting important design elements and architectural sightlines from the house. We will continue to limit water use in areas not essential for visitor experience which aligns with our current sustainability goals.
