

Judy Nemer Sklar

Professional artist, writer, and educator

Credentials: Bachelor of Arts from Chapman University, Orange, California; Master of Arts from California State University Dominguez Hills, California; recipient of grants and scholarships. She has shown her art in numerous galleries and has won regional and national juried art awards; has developed and taught creative art workshops in Los Angeles and Palm Springs, California, entitled “Embracing A Creative Life Workshops for Health and Wellness.” She has been featured in art, health, and wellness magazines.

Work Philosophy: Judy is passionate about the creative process and believes that creative thinking is highly beneficial for those in both creative and non-creative fields. “Like an explosion of stars across the sky, like splattered paint, I keep moving and leaning into the creative process. I hope to inspire, create and to continue to learn from others, to dazzle with color, smile at whimsy and always fall head over heels in love with art.”
